From there, flying to Egypt reveals the wonders of Cairo's Pyramids of Giza and the Sphinx, followed by a Nile cruise to Aswan and Luxor, including stops at the Temple of Philae, Karnak, and the Valley of the Kings, offering the ultimate Egypt and Morocco tours.

Itinerary

Day 1

Upon your arrival at Casablanca, our driver guide will be there for you at the airport, right in front of Gate 2. From there, you will head north to Rabat, the Moroccan capital city. After checking in at your hotel, you will have a cozy evening at your leisure.

Starting your Egypt and Morocco tour in Morocco with a friendly reception, this trip has launched a series of memorable experiences filled with culture, history, and stunning scenery.

Activities: Transfer from Casablanca Airport to Hotel (Rabat)

Overnight in: Rabat.

Day 2

Day 2 : Rabat - Meknes - Volubilis - Fez

After breakfast, be prepared for a guided tour of Rabat, it will revolve around uncovering the history of Rabat.

Rabat: The capital city of Morocco and known for historic Islamic architecture, the Atlantic Ocean stretching out to infinity, and the smell of traditional Morocco.

Chellah: A fortified medieval necropolis built on the ruins of a Roman town with peace-filled gardens and nests for snow-white storks.

Kasbah Ouddaya: The Kasbah offers blue and white alleys and fantastic views of the Atlantic Ocean and the River Bouregreg.

(Free time in the old medina for visiting the souks and bazaars.)

The old medina has lively souks and is full of handicrafts, spices, leather items, and Moroccan stuff.

Optional-After that move to 'Café Maure' alongside the Bouregreg and hang out to have a tea with mint and certain Moroccan sweet treats like 'Kaab Ghazal' or 'Ghariba'

Café Maure: a traditional Moroccan café, sells mint tea along with its stunning views of the river.

Bouregreg River: is a scenic river that divides Rabat and Salé and is important for business, historically.

Free time later to stroll around the souks and bazaars in the old medina of Rabat. Then, continue to “Café Maure”, on the bank of Bouregreg River, to enjoy a Moroccan Tea time with mint tea alongside some Moroccan goodies like: “Kaab Ghazal” and “Ghariba”.

Our next stop will be Fez, but let us stop along the way for guided visits to Volubilis and Meknes.

Volubilis: is a UNESCO listed Roman archaeological site where a unique mix of Roman and Berber cultures can be seen.

Meknes: is an imperial city developed by Sultan Moulay Ismail and frequently referred to as the “Versailles of Morocco” because of its opulence.

While being guided in the site, one learns to see the incredible blend of the Roman and Berber cultures in this UNESCO World Heritage of Volubilis. After this, we will then come down to another royal city called Meknes that grew during the reign of Moulay Ismail and is most aptly referred to as the 'Versailles of Morocco'.

Some of the attractions include the immense Bab el-Mansour gate and the lively Lahrij Square.

The grandest among them is the Bab El Mansour: which is decorated with magnificent zellige tile work.

Lhri (El Hedim) Place: a bustling square for cafes, shopping, and street performers.

Day 2: Fez, an evening arrival On arrival in Fez, take a Fez walking tour to explore the historic streets, lively medinas, and its rich cultural heritage.

Fez: One of the oldest medieval cities in the world known for its tangled medina and deep cultural and spiritual background.

The more you know: Kaab Ghazal means in Arabic the hoof of the deer, and along with Ghariba and Mint Tea are symbols of Moroccan hospitality.

Overnight in: Fez.

Meals: Breakfast, Tea break.

Local experience: Café Maure overlooking “Abouregrag” River.

Day 3

Day 3: Fes Exploration day

The guided city tour of Fez starts after breakfast as it was the kingdom's capital until 1912. Consequently, you will spend some days exploring Fez Medina, which is the UNESCO protected in the world's oldest university and went in the ninth century.

Fez Medina: The ancient town, a maze-like and filled with artisans, an old market, one more time with the spice and the kneading of the leathers.

Major spots will be seen by you on the Fez tour with your guide, for instance, Bou-Inania Medersa, Medersa of Attarin, the Tanners, Ess-Seffarine Square, Moulay Driss Tomb, Nejjarine Square, cabinet makers' souk, Hebrew district, Mellah.

Bou-Inania Medersa: A 14th-century college to be known for its wood carving and marble work.

Attarin Medersa: A lovely little Medersa decorated with the finest Moroccan zellige.

Tanners' Quarter: The tanneries are world-renowned for their water-filled dyeing pits used to craft leather.

El-Seffarine Square: The copper makers along the lively "ringing copper" have illuminating stores along the square.

Moulay Idriss Tomb: The traditional and spiritual foundation of love for Moulay Idriss in Fez, the former royal city of Morocco.

El-Nejjarine Square: This is the square surrounded by the shops of woodwork and traditional craftsmanship.

Cabinet Makers' Souq: This long, narrow street in a blaze of wondrous eye candy offers fine carved woodwork.

Mellah: This charming Jewish enclave is splendid in its early Portuguese style architecture.

Also, you can take a Moroccan leap at a pottery workshop with a top-rank artisan.

This workshop dates back to the diary of Fez, in which blue pottery became the most important skill for preparation.

After lunch at your local special restaurant on halted legs, either proceed to the hotel or take an individual tour with your camera round the dining city.

Just a little more to be knowledgeable about: Every October, Fez celebrates one of the largest festivals globally, where lovers of the Sufi imagination come together and celebrate a cosmopolitan spirit, with performances from all over the world.

Overnight in: Fez

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

Local Experience: Pottery workshops

Day 4

Day 4: Beni-Mellal - Marrakech

After breakfast, you will be picked up, and then travel to the imperial city of Marrakech.

Along the way, you will pass through small villages such as Imouzar and Ifrane. A bit later in the day, when you reach one of the morocco's best known agricultural centers called Beni Melal. You will continue on your journey to Marrakech.

On arrival in Marrakech, you will be taken to check in at your hotel where you will be spending the night.

Today you will get the chance to wake up and enjoy the best walking tour of Marrakech, a dream of many, so be sure to make the best of it.

After your breakfast, our tour guide in Marrakech and driver guide will be waiting for you to start a guided city tour of the "Ochre City."

Marrakech: A lively imperial city known for its vibrant souks, colorful streets, and rich history blending Berber, Arab, and French influences.

We will visit first in the morning the Majorelle Garden, named after the French painter Jacques Majorelle who dedicated great effort and passion to this art piece.

Majorelle Garden: A serene garden oasis famous for its cobalt blue structures, exotic plants, and peaceful walking paths.

After Majorelle, continue to Menara, and though the name in Arabic translates to “lighthouse,” it is actually a pavilion with a basin and a garden of orchards and olive groves.

Menara: A historic pavilion set in expansive olive groves, offering scenic views of the Atlas Mountains and a tranquil reflection pool.

Following through our visit to Koutoubia Mosque will be the crossing of an area known by the name of Mellah-the Jewish community.

Koutoubia Mosque: Another significant attraction in the Jamaa El Fna, this mosque stands out with a magnifying minaret; visible from every corner of the city.

Mellah: The "Royal" Jewish quarter; colorful markets and culture

A meal taken at a restaurant's and a horse-drawn Carriage/Koutchi back to the square will end a delightful day of sight-seeing.

Jemaa El-Fnaa: The melting point of Marrakech, full of storytellers, musicians, and entertainment-you can head out to see by yourself why the Jemaa is alive!

The greater the knowledge you have of Marrakech, the better: it is a town of holiness; Moroccans refer to it as "land of the seven men," meaning the seven men were big scholars in Islam and Sufism loyal to knowledge and the worship of God

Overnight in: Marrakech.

Meals: Breakfast, lunch.

Local experience: Kotchi (Horse Carriage Tour).

Day 6: Marrakech Free Day

After having your breakfast, be picked up and journey to the imperial city of Marrakesh.

Marrakesh: A lively and bustling city that is filled with ornate palaces, a huge market, and the famous Jemaa el Fna Square where people gather to tell stories and play music.

During the journey, you will pass some small villages such as Imouzar and Ifrane.

Imouzar: A village set amid beautiful countryside in the High Atlas Mountains associated with traditional Berber culture.

Ifrane: Often called "Little Switzerland" because of its alpine-style architecture, parks, and clean streets.

You will head a little further down the road to Beni Mellal, one of Morocco's most popular agricultural centers.

Beni Mellal: A verdant city at the base of the Middle Atlas Mountains, among the olive groves and citrus orchards renowned for its agricultural produce.

Overnight in: Marrakech.

Meals: Breakfast.
